

YOUNG LEADERS ARE ACTIVATING RESPONSIBLE LEADERSHIP VIDEO TRANSCRIPT

We're all in this together. Our success depends on each other. Our failure depends on each other. Our survival depends on each other.

We have a responsibility to actually enable agility and rapid learning.

You cannot change the things you cannot measure.

Listening to understand and not listening to answer.

Responsible leadership for me is about balancing head and heart.

What's the way of create the biggest impact?

Making sure that you do create rituals around communication.

It's important to bring youth to the table that CEOs and ministers and leaders work out every single day.

For-purpose organizations that do seek to really serve shareholders and stakeholders just without exploiting people or planet in the process.
